Appleton®

Flexel EMT Flexible Fittings

Application

- The Flexel is an innovative way in which to couple lengths of EMT together or connect EMT to a panel board, junction box, etc., when and where a change of direction is required in the conduit run.
- Suitable for use indoors or dry locations wherever EMT is used as a raceway.
- Safely conducts the maximum ground fault current required by UL, CSA and the National Electrical Code. No need to pull a separate grounding conductor.

GREENLEE®

Glo Stix™ Kit 540-15 (15ft.)
Glo Stix™ 11427 (5ft.)

NEW & IN STOCK

Glo Stix™ are manufactured from luminescent 3/16" fiberglass rods that glow in the dark to make fishing voice, data and video wires easier in dark spaces such as above ceilings, in walls and below sub-floors. The smaller 3/16" diameter fiberglass rod makes Glo Stix more flexible for fishing into an outlet box and up through a wall.

The Glo Stix comes with a bullet nose tip for pushing through insulated walls, under carpet or above ceilings and a hook nose tip for hooking onto wires above ceilings or under raised floors. The Glo Stix kit includes (3) five foot fiberglass sections that thread together for a total of fifteen feet.
